

Please Remove Your Mask!

Your reason for wearing a mask is no more valid or important than anyone else's for not wearing a mask...regardless of what any government official, media member or "expert" says. Mask Anxiety is real! It's running rampant through our society and will have long lasting psychological, physical and other yet unknown effects (especially on our children) for years to come. If you suffer from Mask Anxiety or you believe masks do more harm than good, please stop wearing them and contributing to the degradation of American society. Remember:
We're all in this together!

Our Mission

Our mission is to get rid of government mandates and the anti-American elected officials who enact, enforce or support them. Whether those officials are Republicans, Democrats, corrupt, greedy or just stupid. We live in the information age. If there's a dangerous virus out there, our families & communities will come up with the most effective solution before any government office will. If we need to stay home, close businesses, wear masks or hazmat suits, we'll figure it out. Government mandates may work in China, but we shouldn't allow them to work in America!

Children & Masks

One of the biggest concerns that creates the most anxiety in us is the wearing of masks by children. Unfortunately, when there are billions of corporate dollars at stake, even our children aren't off limits. It's been said that: "Anyone involved in having a child strap something made in China across their face for 8 hours a day, because it's the socially responsible thing to do, should either be arrested or seek psychological help." In the beginning of the Covid-19 pandemic, it was suggested that children should only wear masks if there was a clear, immediate and present danger to their health. Most people thought it would be absurd to do anything to hamper the breathing of someone with developing lungs, immune and other bodily systems, even for short periods of time, without that danger present. Since then, things have changed. Whether we've become desensitized, brainwashed by social & mainstream media or decided it was no big deal and the right thing to do, children are wearing masks 6-8 hours daily while at schools or other places masks are required. Many still argue that children, or anyone else for that matter, shouldn't leave their houses if there is something so dangerous out there that would require a mask to be worn. The long term physical and psychological effects on children of just wearing masks for extended periods of time are unknown. Although many would say they will be far worse than the effects of any virus in the air. Not even considering that most of the masks or face coverings children are wearing are made in China, with various types of fabrics, dyes, bleaches, chemicals, etc. Of course, these mask manufacturers and anyone else making money off masks can cite many articles (maybe written by them) and scientific tests (maybe done by their scientists) claiming that they're perfectly safe for children and adults. They'll mention anecdotal evidence like medical professionals wearing them for years, their prevalence in Chinese society, social responsibility, science or that it's just common sense. Many would say we're doing what amounts to a scientific experiment on our children. It wouldn't surprise me if we wake up in 20 years with a generation of young adults with breathing problems, psychological issues, immune system deficiencies or strange cancers from the extended wearing masks. So, If you've been conned into wearing masks by social, local & national media, politicians, virtue signalers, mask manufacturers, testing manufacturers, vaccine manufacturers or others who stand to make billions (if not trillions) on pandemic related products and services, you're not alone. Keep wearing them if you need to, just promise us you'll think twice before putting one on a child again

Government Mandates

Wake up America! Our country is being destroyed by overzealous, self-serving and self righteous; mayors, governors, media members, big businesses, school boards, celebrities, etc. making decisions for our communities based on what they or their “experts” think is best for us (or their bank accounts), with no regard for what the American people want.

We all know there are experts on both sides of every issue and there is never really a “right side”. Unfortunately, over the past year, elected officials have decided what the “right side” is for our families and communities. Government mandates, restrictions to schools and businesses, stay-at-home orders, forced quarantines, travel restrictions, etc. have devastated cities, states, communities, businesses and the general health and welfare of our country. Most of us believe that politics, media & large corporations played too big of a role and we would have been better off doing something different or even doing nothing at all. Just temporarily closing businesses and schools will contribute more to obesity, alcoholism, drug addiction, mental illness, business failures, suicides, economic and other unintended negative consequences than most of us can imagine. The elected officials and others in charge of enacting, enforcing or supporting these mandates, either had too much to gain or were too stupid to think about the unintended consequences of their actions. We have heard from many “experts” employed by major drug companies, large corporations, politicians, media, etc., who often stand to gain billions for themselves or the companies they represent. They’ve all been preaching about “science” and “common sense” while the companies they work for or own have been getting rich. We haven’t heard from many experts on the side that there is no money to be made and when we have, they’ve typically been dismissed as being ‘crazy’ or ‘reckless’. Their contrary opinions are obviously bad for business!

How did we get here?

Follow the money! The 3 main beneficiaries of the Covid-19 pandemic and the related mandates enacted by our elected officials have been Big Business, Big Media & Big Pharma...who coincidentally or not, are the major financial political contributors and are often the main reason these officials were elected in the first place. You can bet the Big 3 have been lobbying from the beginning for mask mandates, stay-at-home orders, business restrictions, etc. Many pockets are getting fat while the average American suffers. Many promises have probably been made behind closed doors for future campaign contributions, jobs for relatives, perks, etc. All done in the name of saving the American people from a horrible virus. They're all financially incentivized to keep the pandemic going as long as possible.

Big Business – Large corporations are making more money than ever before. The stock market has continued to make all-time highs throughout the Covid-19 pandemic.

Meanwhile, more and more small businesses are closing every day. Big businesses were able to lobby the politicians that they helped get elected and come up with terms like “essential” businesses and get favorable regulations from their politician buddies. They already had things like home deliveries in place and were able to shift to work-from-home models, knowing the high upfront costs would prohibit many small businesses from doing the same. It would be no surprise if large businesses lobbied behind closed doors for tight restrictions, knowing it would wipe out much of their competition. Government mandates have severely damaged the American entrepreneurial spirit. Would you want to start a business in a country that’s motto was Government “For and By the Politicians and their Supporters” instead of “For and By the People”?

Big Media– In the past year, we’ve witnessed a perfect storm for social and mainstream media. Never before has Big Media had the undivided attention of so many people at one time. As most of America was home with a lot more time on their hands, the media capitalized on it just like any other smart business would have. We’ve all clicked on countless pandemic related stories and watched countless hours of pandemic related TV coverage. Just like Big Business, Big Media is incentivized to keep the Covid-19 pandemic going as long as possible. Sensationalism, fear generation and fabricated stories to get and keep our attention are making them more money than they’ve ever dreamed of. Truth in journalism means nothing when there are millions of advertising dollars at stake. You certainly don’t see any anti-mask, anti-vaccine or any other stories that may go against their major advertisers or result in shortening the pandemic. Unfortunately, news stories stating that “Over half the Covid-19 deaths happened in nursing homes” or “More than 500,000 Americans died last year from Covid-19, but that 450,000 of these people probably would have died from heart disease, cancer or old age last year anyway." wouldn't get nearly the attention or make nearly the money, but would probably be closer to the truth than anyone is reporting. If you stopped clicking on related stories and watching coverage, the pandemic would probably magically be gone tomorrow. Otherwise, it will last as long as they can keep you interested.

Big Pharma – Being the mainstream media's biggest advertiser for many years and some of the largest political campaign contributors, they are able to push virtually any agenda they desire to the American public with ease. They have lobbyists in every inch of our political system and influence almost every decision made in politics. The media creates the fear...the politicians make mask mandates and shut down the country...the media gets more customers spending more time, generating more advertising dollars...big business thrives...the hero drug companies come in and save us all with their magical vaccines...and everyone involved gets their bank accounts stuffed with $$$...the perfect crime...GENIUS! Of course, our "hero" drug companies are the same ones that have over half of America hooked on prescription meds. The "heroes" that constantly lose lawsuits for fraud and not disclosing dangerous side effects of the drugs they're making billions on. The "heroes" that look the other way when they see thousands of Americans overdosing on their addictive pain medications. The "heroes" that made sure they wouldn't face any liability from the experimental vaccines they whipped up but are certainly going to make billions from them. They've got the media and politicians doing their dirty work, telling Americans' things like, trust "science" and we can all get back to "normal" if we just get vaccinated, probably making all kinds of behind the scenes promises for future advertising and campaign contributions. The "science" they're talking about is really science for profit aka good old business and we probably never would have left "normal" if not for bad judgement and greed in the first place. The coming narrative will likely be that vaccines saved us all... we'll be forever indebted to the "heroes"...and we'll be loading our bodies with whatever else they can make money on for years to come. Of course, if you say something like, "Any fool that would put an experimental vaccine in a person with a healthy immune system, especially a child, because of advertising or a government official told them to, should be checked into a mental institution." you'll get you banned from social media sites and probably have governmental officials knocking on your door.

If our government and the Big 3 above, focused one-tenth of the efforts they spent last year on Covid-19, on heart disease and getting Americans more health conscious (arguably a much more controllable issue), they could save countless lives and contribute to the quality of life of millions. Of course, that would result in people spending less time hooked on media, less need for prescription medications and less money for big business...so you're almost guaranteed not to see that happen anytime soon.

Our Future

It's May 1, 2021...much of the pandemic related nonsense is starting to die down in some areas but is still going strong in others. We know the future and unfortunately, it looks much like the past. There's too much easy money to be made for it not to repeat itself. The above Big 3 will figure out how to regenerate the pandemic sooner than you think. Before you know it, you'll hear "masks up", close businesses, more vaccines, etc. so we can "conquer" the next Covid variant or dangerous flu virus. Like they say, fool me once, shame on you...fool me twice, shame on me. Don't let your guard down! Hopefully our society will be a little wiser next time and not let the Big 3, along with the elected officials, do more damage to our society while they pursue the almighty dollar.

If your employer or a business you frequent, has a mandatory mask requirement, let us know and we'll try to get them to change their policy.
